About the Position

Green Mountain Farm-to-School seeks a dynamic, mission-driven educator with strong communication and strategic organization skills to manage our farm to school program. The primary responsibilities of the Farm-to-School Program Manager will be to supervise a team of AmeriCorps members and develop, manage, and evaluate GMFTS' Farm-to-School program. The Farm-to-School Program Manager reports to the Executive Director.

Position Description

The Farm-to-School Program Manager will:

- Recruit, train, supervise and mentor annual team of AmeriCorps members
- Act as the main contact with AmeriCorps sponsor agency, assuring compliance with all reporting, trainings and other host site requirements as dictated by contract
- Oversee farm-to-school program implementation to ensure quality; including training, program delivery, and scheduling
- Support the farm to school team in the creation and development of curriculum, outlines, handouts, and visual aids for classes
- Purchase, distribute, and maintain program supplies and equipment
- Collect, analyze, and report data for program evaluation
- Collaborate with the Executive Director and staff on various projects
- Manage community partnerships including relationships with schools, school administration, volunteers, nonprofit partners, and other programmatic contacts
- Oversee relevant grant applications including deliverables and reporting
- Act as GMFTS representative for state-wide initiatives and collaborations, serving on committees and working groups as deemed appropriate
- Provide general operational and administrative support to organization, as necessary

Preferred Qualifications

- Bachelor's degree preferred in agriculture, nutrition, education or related fields (or equivalent experience)
- 3 years of relevant experience in a supervisory role
- Strong project management skills
- Experience teaching children in an experiential and hands-on setting
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills with exceptional attention to detail
- Strength in hiring, managing, and developing individuals and teams
- Familiarity with non-profit organizations as related to budgeting, mission and collaboration

Compensation: This is a full-time exempt position (40 hours/week, flexible schedule, hybrid work model) with salary range $38,000 - $41,000.00 commensurate with experience and a comprehensive benefits package including:

- 27 days of annual paid time off (5 additional days after three years of employment)
